Winland Electronics, Inc.

Your Reputation is Too Important to Leave Up to Chance

For 45 years, Winland has been a trusted leader in critical-environment monitoring for environment-dependent assets. In conjunction with our partners, we work with pharmaceutical, healthcare, and food service industries. Our solution, Insight, protects perishable assets against loss and ensures data-logging compliance for organizations with regulated storage conditions. Insight delivers early incident detection, notification, standardized response protocols, reporting, and the remote management of critical-condition environments. Clients not only experience peace of mind, but also a higher ROI due to the prevention of inventory loss, regulatory fines, and potentially costly lawsuits. Proudly made in the USA, Winland products are compatible with any alarm system and are available through security dealers worldwide.

Environmental Monitoring Systems

Primex, Inc.

Reliable, Secure, Compliant

To help you better protect patients and safeguard valuable medicines and vaccines, Primex, Inc. offers a series of wireless temperature, humidity, and differential pressure sensors as part of its state-of-the-art OneVue™ environmental monitoring ecosystem. With cloud-based OneVue watching your assets, you'll enjoy instant alerts when conditions stray out of range and 24/7 access to all compliance reporting from any laptop, tablet, or mobile device. Our PrimexPROBE with CertiTrak Calibration Certification Tracking is fully NIST certified and eliminates the need to manually track calibration data and lifespan of your temperature monitoring probes. Additionally, the monitors they feed meet or exceed all applicable performance requirements and recommendations of the CDC, FDA, TJC, VFC, State Boards of Pharmacy, and other AHJs. Powered by Amazon Web Services, OneVue delivers everything you need in an environmental monitoring platform: precision performance, world-class service, and bank-level security, all complemented by straightforward installation and an intuitive, easy-to-use interface that helps you get up and running quickly. With OneVue, it's never been easier to get peace of mind.
